Descriptive Catalogue

It has been published in Two Volumes by NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF INDIAN MEDICAL HERITAGE HYDERABAD. It was a project called CDMM (Collection and Digitization of Medical Manuscript from South India, Maharashtra and Madhya Pradesh). It contains detailed description of the Ayurveda manuscripts and rarely available Ayurveda books, which were written in Sanskrit and South Indian Languages.

Prof. Gaur was an active member in the Expert Committee for this project also and gave his valuable expert suggestions.

Exclusive contribution for Sanskrit and Ayurved

Ayurveda is a system of traditional medicine native to the Indian subcontinent. The oldest known Ayurvedic texts are the Sushruta Samhita and the Charaka Samhita. These Classical Ayurvedic texts are written in Sanskrit language. So, it is quite essential for a person from Ayurveda field to have a command over Sanskrit Language.

Prof Gaur attained his primary and secondary education in Sanskrit and did Bhashagacharya from the Sanskrit medium. Later being a lecturer in Ayurveda College he did MA in Sanskrit from Rajasthan University in 1977 and secured first division. Meanwhile, he regularly taught all the subjects of basic principles which require good sanskrit knowledge as all the samhitas and commentaries are in sanskrit.

Prof. BanwariLal Gaur has written 31 Books +1 Book in Press and almost each of them has their basics derived from Sanskrit Language.

Prof. Gaur has not just benefited Ayurveda but also contributed for Sanskrit. The below mentioned books are exclusively written by him which embarked his contribution in Sanskrit and Ayurved literature.

1. LaghuSiddhantKaumudi (Edited, Translated and Commented)
2. Sanskritayurvedasudha (A book of Sanskrit Grammar explaining Sanskrit terminology with Ayurvedic Examples i.e. Samas, Sandhi, Pratyaya, Gana, Dhatu, Prakriya, Linganusasan and shabdroopa)
3. PadarthVigyanParichaya(This contains philosophy with Ayurvedic Context)
4. Samvartika Commentary on Sutrasthan of AstangHridaya (AstangHridaya is a book of the 6th Century in Sanskrit. The Sutra Sthan of this book is translated and a Commentary written by him in Hindi).
5. AYURVEDEEYA SHABDAAVABODH (It is a sanskrit literature book which contains Description and Derivation of Ayurvedic words, padasiddhi, chhandovarnan and examples of samas which has been used in Charaksamhita and Shushrutasamhita and Astanghridaya)
6. AYURVEDO HI SHASHVATAH (Published in Sanskrit Language in 2015)
7. AHARO DEHAPOSHAKAH (Published in Sanskrit Language in 2015)
8. AYURVEDIYA KATHASHTAKAM (Published in Sanskrit Language IN 2016)
9. Prof BanwariLal Gaur had occupied various academic positions. He started his career as Physician and climbed the ladders of academics - Demonstrator to Lecturer and Professor and to the position of Director and finally to the highest academic seat of Vice-Chancellor and always taught basic principles of ayurveda.
10. While on being various positions, he had always engaged himself in teaching Samhitas, specially CharakSamhita and an Ayurveda DeepikaTika written in Sanskrit.

A major Project work was assigned to him by the Minstry of AYUSH of Govt. of India for translation of “CharakSamhita with Ayurveda Dipika Commentry” from Sanskrit into Hindi.

Prof. Gaur was its Chief Investigator and Translator. It contains more than 4294 pages.

This work also included description of Ayurvedic Terminological words in Sanskrit.

Speciality in Ayurveda: Professor Gaur is an erudite Ayurveda scholar, renowned physician and a prolific writer who has served at various positions in his career spanning over 45 years in Government sector till March 2011 and after that serving as physician and writer. Participating seminars, CME's deilverig the lectures regularly till date, for 13years. (Total working span is about 58 years).
